

SALEM MUSEUM

& HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Welcome to General Andrew Lewis' Birthday Bash!

It isn't everyday that our favorite Revolutionary War hero turns 300!

Our Guest of Honor:

Brigadier General Andrew Lewis (1720-1781)

portrayed by Joe LaRocco

Our Invited Guests:

John Hook Griffin (1803-1878)

portrayed by Rob Laing

Nellie Peery (1890s-1950s)

portrayed by Deena Sasser

Grace Smyth, Jr. (1907-1994)

portrayed by Peggy Shifflett

Orran Oakey (1864-1927)

portrayed by Norman Ferguson

H. L. Roberts (1887-1957)
portrayed by Garrett Channell

John M. Oakey (1839-1921)
portrayed by Sam Winkler

Clementine Chapman (died 1928)
portrayed by Emma Boyer

Playwright, Director and Emcee: Alex Burke
Assistant Museum Director, (born 1994)

Thanks to our volunteers: Caitlin Abi-Saab, Lisa Bain, Anna Elmore, Joe and Susan Kirby, Whitney Leeson, John Long, Susan Mini, Emma Painter, Amanda Rothkopf, Conner Rothkopf, Mel Staton, and Luke Stovall!

To Keep Everyone Safe:

Masks are required at all times, over nose and mouth.

Hand sanitizer or hand washing stations are available at the entrances.

Please maintain six to ten feet of social distance between you and other guests.

We are very grateful for the generous support provided by Sherwood Memorial Park, the City of Salem, and the William & Margaret Robertson Endowment Fund!

Andrew Lewis Collectible Ornament now on Sale: Regularly $21, Today only $20.

The museum's new, colorful, highly detailed brass ornament depicts Lewis firing the first shot that led to Lord Dunmore's defeat—and Virginia's independence.

Visit the Salem Museum & Gift Shop

Tuesday-Saturday 10-4 | 801 E Main Street next to Longwood Park
Five floors of exhibits | Free Admission | SalemMuseum.org

